The UCL Summer School gives you the chance to study in London for three or six weeks over the summer and gain credit towards your degree programme.

About UCL

Based in the heart of London, UCL is a world-leading university. Our academic specialisms cover most subjects, from the arts and social sciences to health and physical sciences, and our innovative focus on interdisciplinary study to examine global issues sets us apart. Our academic excellence and location in one of the world's most dynamic capital cities give you unrivalled personal, social and academic benefits which will enhance any CV or résumé.

London's Global University

UCL has a global reach and a global vision. We currently welcome students from over 150 different countries, and recognise and celebrate the diversity and different viewpoints that our students bring. Our academic staff, drawn from around 100 different countries, are similarly diverse.

Global outlook, global issues

The modules on offer give a flavour of UCL's ethos and academic expertise. Our aim is to make "global citizens" of all our students, and we invite you to think about issues affecting the entire world.

All UCL Summer School modules aim to incorporate the latest research in each subject area, and many also make use of London as a unique learning resource, taking the learning experience beyond the classroom through excursions and field trips.

AN EXCITING OPPORTUNITY FOR STUDENTS TO STUDY FOR THREE OR SIX WEEKS IN THE HEART OF LONDON

London

London is one of the world's great cities. Ranked as the 'Top Travel Destination in the World' in the 2016 TripAdvisor Travellers' Choice Awards, London is home to world-famous historical sites such as the Tower of London, Buckingham Palace and Big Ben. A global centre for entertainment, culture, shopping and the arts, the city is home to 170 museums, 850 art galleries, nearly 800 cinema screens and over 200 shows per day across the West End.

During the UCL Summer School you'll have plenty of time to explore London and with a near-endless range of attractions and activities to be enjoyed, you're sure to find something of interest. The city's social calendar is at its peak over the summer and includes a wide range of cultural and sporting events as well as festivals, exhibitions, lectures, talks and tours to keep you busy. Furthermore, UCL's central location in the heart of the city will give you the perfect base from which to explore (all students receive a £50 pre-paid Oyster travelcard upon enrolment at UCL).

About the UCL Summer School

The UCL Summer School is divided into two sessions, each spanning three weeks (dates can be found on the back of this leaflet). You can choose to attend for one or two sessions, and you will study one module per session.

You will be taught by UCL academics in interactive small groups with class visits and guest speakers to further enhance your learning.

While some personal study is necessary in order to succeed, evenings and weekends are clear to allow you to explore the city of London and further afield.

With 18 specialist libraries and five permanent collections on campus, and all of London's museums, galleries and monuments within easy reach, you will have a wealth of resources to support your studies. As a UCL Summer School student you will have full-time student status, which entitles you to full borrowing rights in our libraries.

Join us for three or six weeks and discover how UCL can help you realise your potential.

97% of those attending the UCL Summer School in 2016 said they'd recommend it to a friend.

Modules

One of the main factors that sets the UCL Summer School apart from others is the range and diversity of our module offering.

Each module is worth the equivalent of 4 US credits or 7.5 ECTS. Depending on the regulations at your home institution it may be possible to transfer credits gained to your own degree programme.

There are over 50 modules available from the subject groups listed below.
