The Russian Language 3 week course is designed to provide you with a good idea of what you might cover over a 3-week period, and includes typical themes, grammar and vocabulary fields.

If you have never studied Russian before this course is for you. Whether you are looking for an introduction to the language before a holiday, or want to study intensively, we have a range of beginners classes available.

This course is flexible rather than prescriptive and tailor-made rather than regular. During the course we study more than language, we dive into the Russian world, so appealing and hidden behind the myths.

Our teachers are all certified native-level speakers with a deep understanding of the social and cultural use of the Russian language.
